He Stuck It Out

A young lad in the lower grades complained to his teacher that he had a terrific stomach ache. The teacher sent him to see the principal.

When the little tyke returned to the classroom, he walked in such a manner that his stomach stuck way out. When the teacher asked him why he was walking that way, he replied:

"I told the principal I had a stomach ache, and he said if I could stick it out till noon he'd drive me home."

In FASHION now

It would seem that the difference between fur and fabric has been reduced to its narrowist point in the newest fall and winter fur designs. In fact, we find that furs do almost everything fabric can and often do it much better.

Waistlines are lowered and armholes have been dropped. You will find such points as fine pleating, shirring, and fur-on-fur combinations in an endless series of exciting silhouttes.

Stoles, for several years now, have been the favorite of Americans. However, they are fast being replaced with little carved jackets - shaped something like a half-moon. Not much bigger than boleros, many feature self or contrasting fur insets.

Collars on fur garments are keeping pace with the trend in other clothes and are moving away from the face. Armholes are deep and sometihmes start almost at the waist. Sleeves are bracelet-length and are often slightly bloused.

Chinchilla, lavish mink, and Russian broadtail are the most popular furs with women who can afford them. Somali leopard is another favorite for more casual items.

There is hope for the lady who has always longed for chinchilla or mink — the cost has dropped a little each year. If this trend continues — who knows — perhaps we will soon be sporting a mink or even chinchilla coat.

Ideal Set-Up

Two men were discussing the coming marriage of their buddy. "He is getting a wonderfully accomplished girl," said one. "She can swim, ride, drive a car, and pilot a plane. A real all-around girl."

"They ought to get along," observed the other. "He learned to cook in the army."

Play safe — drive carefully.

CLASS AT LOCAL CHURCH IN LEADERSHIP TRAINING

The W. M. U. of the Appomattox Association is sponsoring a class in leadership training of W. M. U. methods on Friday evening, Nov. 6, beginning at 7:00 P. M. Mrs. Kenneth M. Burke, of Richmond, will be the teacher of this class. Mrs. Burke, wife of the treasurer of The Virginia Baptist, is a member of the Foreign Mission Board, and has served in various capacities in the Virginia Woman's Missionary Union.

This class is being given for accredition and will require seven and one-half hours of study. The second session will be given on Saturday morning beginning at 9:00 A. M., until 1:00 P. M. Both classes will be held at Liberty Baptist Church. A nursery will be provided at the church for both Friday evening and Saturday morning.

Mrs. A. R. Harwood, Jr., Superintendent of the Association, urges all to attend this class in keeping with the Jubilee Goals for the emphasis of "Leadership Training" for 1959-60. Southern Union Yearbooks and the Virginia Supplements will be available at the church for those who wish to purchase them.

HAZEL MOON CIRCLE

The Hazel Moon Circle of the W. M. U. of Liberty Baptist Church will meet on Thursday night, Nov. 12, at 7:30, with Mrs. Peggy W. Rogers.

EXPERIMENTS WITH WILD TURKEYS

Virginia ' s game commission, working to establish huntable game bird populations in areas where none presently exist, recently took two big steps toward providing better bird hunting in the Old Dominion's forested uplands.

Game division biologists, for the first time, used a chartered airplane instead of a truck to transport 65 wild turkeys trapped with a cannon net on the Gathright and Big Levels wildlife management areas to southwest Virginia counties, including Montgomery, Smyth and Giles, where turkey populations are low and where the turkey season has been closed for years. Airplanes can cut travel time to only five hours and thereby reduce losses of birds, it was explained.

In connection with its foreign game introduction program, the Virginia commission received 15 hen and 15 cock Reeves pheasants from Ohio's Waterloo Experimental Game Farm. These colorful birds, to be propagated at the state's Cumberland Game Farm, may do well in woodland terrain in Virginia's western Piedmont, the commission hopes.

About The Home

By Frances Dell

No one would dispute the fact that Italians really know how to eat. Good Italian food is somewhat harder to come by than good French or English dishes — but those of us who have had the pleasure, count fine Italian cooking as tops.

Next to fresh fruits, the favorite Italian dessert is cheese. Most often, it is presented on a tray and in large cities the array usually includes Dutch gouda, Swiss gruyere and English cheddar.

Italians are fond of cooked desserts made from cheese. Two favorites are ricatta pudding and ricatta fritters.

Ricatta cheese, is a fresh, moist cheese — an unsalted version of our own cottage cheese, usually made with cow's milk or sheep's milk. Extremely creamy, this cheese is often sprinkled with sugar and eaten just so as a dessert.

Another interesting food we are hearing more about (and eating more often) is fresh Sardines.

Until recently, we must admit, that we thought that the Sardine grew in the can.

Fresh Sardines are quite delicious and and are available in several large cities in the U. S.

Care of Zippers

The key to trouble-free zippers is proper care. Close zippers before putting garments in closets or drawers to help keep placket seams from sagging or stretching. Keep zippers closed when washing garments or sending them to the dry cleaner. Rinse bathing suits or any garment which has gotten wet to remove salt water or chlorine which may damage zipper metal.

When pressing a zipper placket, place it on a thick towel or other padding. This prevents the zipper teeth from leaving an impression on the placket area. To keep a zipper working smoothly, rub it occasionally on the wrong side with a special zipper lubricant available at the dry cleaners. It's not wise to use parsffin or other wax because it may leave a grease stain.

A cloth bag filled with emery dust, a fine abrasive powder, is useful to sharpen or remove rust spots from needles and pins.
